Stages

As every flower fades and as all youth Departs, so life at every stage,
So every virtue, so our grasp of truth,
Blossoms in its day and may not last forever.
Since life may summon us at every age
Be ready, heart, for parting, new endeavor,
Be ready bravely and without remorse
To find new light that old ties cannot give.
In all beginnings dwells a magic force
For guarding us and helping us to live.

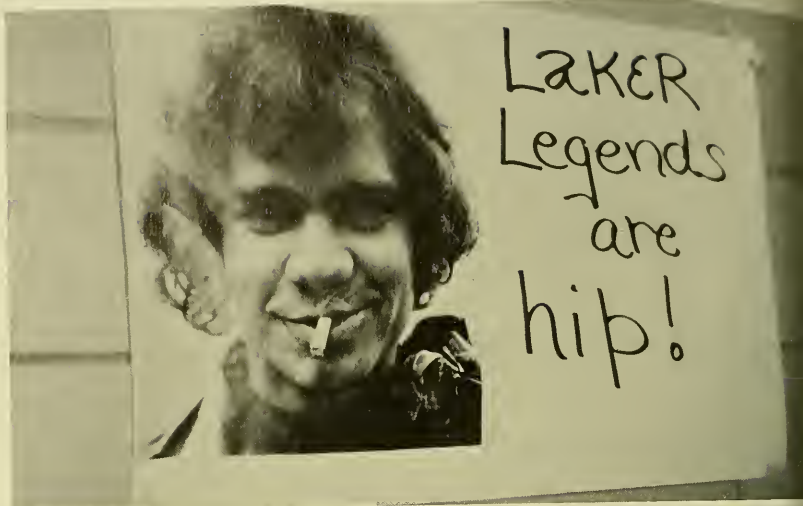

Serenely let us move to distant places
And let no sentiments of home detain us.
The Cosmic Spirit seeks not to restrain us But lifts us stage by stage to wider spaces.
If we accept a home of our own making,
Familiar habit makes for indolence.
We must prepare for parting and leave-taking Or else remain the slaves of permanence.

Even the hour of our death may send Us speeding on to fresh and newer spaces,
And life may summon us to newer races.
So be it, heart: Bid farewell without end.

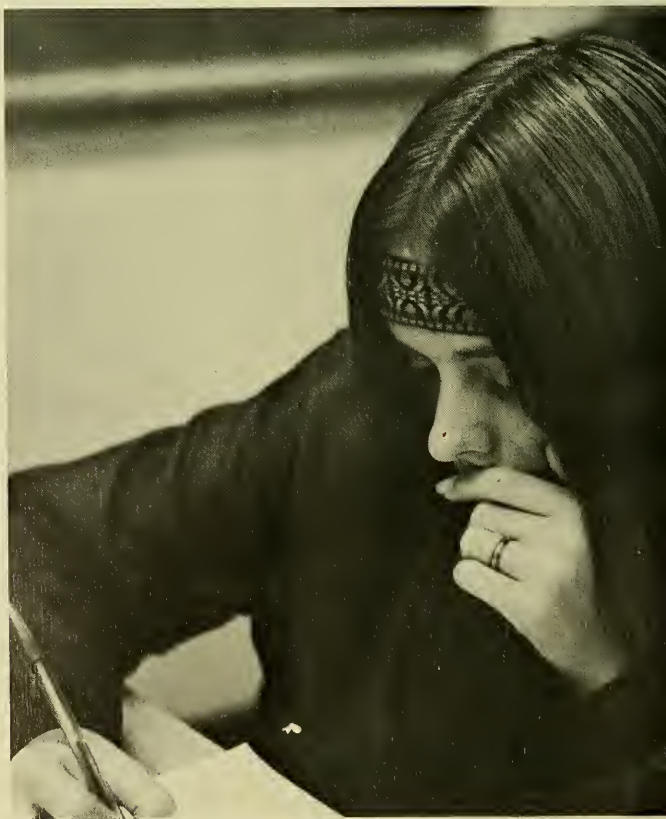

Hermann Hesse

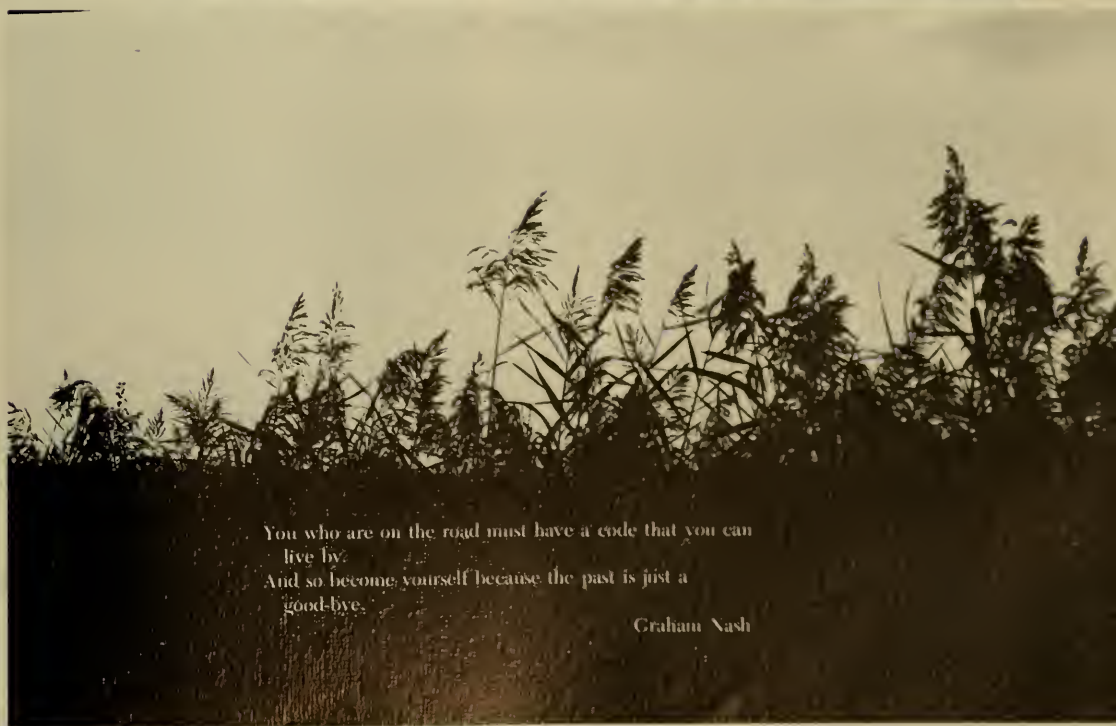

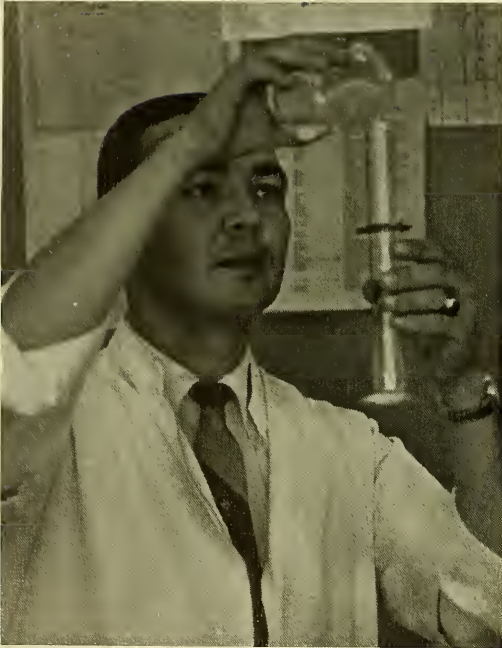

You who are on the road must have a code that you can live by.
And so become yourself because the past is just a good-bye.

Graham Nash

In Memoriam

Gerhard Fliege

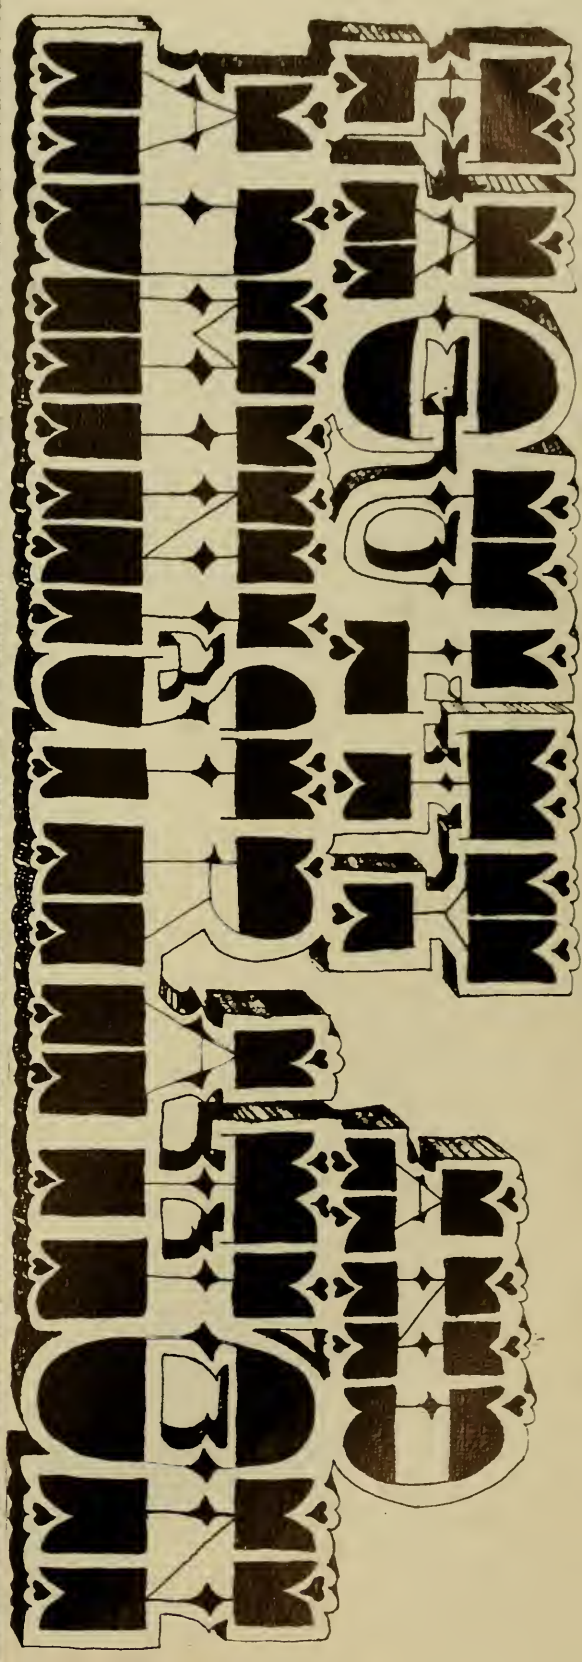

James Bezanson

Death, like birth, is a transition. The smallest insect has as much conception of what is beyond our short lives as man does. A mystery, even this greatest mystery, should not be feared. Perhaps, beyond us all, are waiting fields of daffodils blowing in the sun. Those achieving this transition are not to be mourned. To us, it is death; to them, it is birth.

Every man is a reflection of the world and times in which he lives. Only by sharing these reflections can we gain a fair and true view of our perceived world. Mr. Fliege's and Jimmy's reflections will be missed.

Dedication

William P. Bystrom

"He made us do oral projects
and act out historic scenes
and argue in fixed debates
and organize mock elections, while other classes watched us make fools of ourselves . . .
but all in the interest of education."

"History can be boring when teachers simply lecture, not relating past to present. Mr. Bystrom doesn't teach that way — he makes history relevant to the events of today."

"In two years, Bill Bystrom has built himself quite a reputation. His method of teaching is responsible for his success, and two words can describe this method — enthusiasm and involvement. He is genuinely enthused about his subjects, and his enthusiasm is contagious. His students can always look forward to an interesting, alive class. Through plays, debates, experiments, and discussions, Mr. Bystrom becomes involved in his classes but he doesn't merely moderate or direct — he takes part. By putting himself on the student's level, he establishes an excellent rapport with his students; thus they want to learn from him."

"In study he is the type of guy who yells very little . . . and talks with everyone."

"If you like class discussions — pop into his class . . . It's great entertainment."

"We knew him as Buddy . . ."

To the Class of 1971:

The Torch represents to the Class of 1971 an accumulation of twelve years of formal education and has tried to represent your class in a variety of exposures. For many of you this is just the beginning — for others it may be the termination of your formal education. Whatever the case may be, may I extend a most sincere note of congratulation to all members of the senior class. May you always reflect your educational background in all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely yours,

Paul A. Squarcia

Guidance

Each of us must do the things that matter
All of us must see what we can see Though it was long ago, you must remember You were once as young and scared as me.

"You'll learn from them — if you want to. Just as someday, if you have something to offer, someone will learn something from you. It's a beautiful reciprocal arrangement. And it isn't education. It's history.
 It's poetry."

"Now the child who dreamed tomorrow is near twenty,
Those dreams have lost some grandeur coming true.
There'll be new dreams and maybe better dreams and plenty,
Before that last revolving year is through."

While riding on a train goin' West
I fell asleep for to take my rest, I dreamed a dream that made me sad concernin' myself and the first few friends I had.

With half damp eyes I stared to the room where my friends and I had spent many an afternoon.
Where we together weathered many a storm, laughin' and jokin' till the early hours of the morn.

By the old wooden stove where our hats was hung our words were told, our songs was sung, we longed for nothing and were satisfied singin' and talkin' about the world outside.

With hungry hearts through the heat and cold we never much thought we could get very old, we thought we could sit forever in fun ° but our chances really was a million to one.

As easy it was to tell black from white It was all that easy to tell wrong from right and the choices, they was few, so the thought never hit that the one road we travelled would ever shatter or split.

THE TOWN OF PEMBROKE
CONGRATULATIONS
THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1971!

Just as Spring grows into summer and pollywogs turn into frogs, We, too, are certain to grow — and change.

The world awaiting us is only as vast as our vision, and the patterns that it forms are as many as those in a Kaleidoscope.

It is hard to break old ties, with the realization that they will never be the same and yet — only by changing can we grow.

Carry the sun in your hands and the sky in your eyes, and you will never forget what was — yet you will not let the security of this school blind you from what is to be...

— Gina
